MEXICO. The Free Zone Question Before the Mexican Congress.—The vote on this subject, the Congress of Mexico passed the law not only continuing the "free zone" within the limits it has already assumed, but also extending it to the cities of Cerralto, two interior towns in the State of Nuevo Leon. The fifty-third article in the new tariff bill provides for a discussion of the subject.

The greater portion of three days was occupied by Mr. Romero in the discussion of the bill, in combating the bill and attempting to secure its abolition, but in vain. The opposition to these deputies was so strong, and a vote of thirty-seven was rolled up without much apparent effort.

Secretary Romero, among other things, replied as follows to Mr. Guzman, who favored the continuance and extension of the "free zone": "Another mistake which the orator to whom I refer incurred, is the assertion that the Government of the United States has usurped the territory of the free zone. Continuing his design of making Congress believe that the opinion of the Executive is not the opinion of the President, he makes the conduct of those pretended governments to appear as if they were the Government of the United States."
